

Coerver First Skills

The road to success begins with the first step, or as we at Premier Soccer Institute would say, the first kick of the ball. That's why we are offering the Coerver First Skills program for children aged 4-6. Coerver is the #1 rated soccer training program in the world.

The program builds the basic blocks children need before moving onto competitive play in a structured environment. First Skills is what it means: developing those skills players need to be successful at the game in a safe and FUN environment. Through our program, parents give their children the opportunity to grow in the sport with a firm foundation.

The program has four components: the development of skills; reaction, both physically and mentally; shooting and kicking; play through small sides like two-on-two, three-on-three. The mission of the program is to build confidence in children and a love of the sport. We will build these skills through the four components.

We will also develop listening skills, concentration, communication and cooperation. Healthy eating is also part of the program's messaging.

“At PSI, we believe the basics learned at an early age leads to success in later years, both as a player and an individual through the self-confidence the program instills,” says Raymond Wright, PSI Academy Director and Head Coach.

Premier Soccer Institute is an academy program that provides a high-level environment for players and coaches. Operating from a philosophy of ‘nothing without great effort,’ PSI aims to expand a player's skill and character, and a love of the game.
